

Dyslexia Support Group for Parents

Has your child been identified with DYSLEXIA or a related language learning disability?

Then this group is for you!

This an opportunity for parents and those concerned about children with dyslexia to meet, share ideas and information, and support one another.

Location: Bayview Hill Community Centre
114 Spadina Road, Richmond Hill

Time: 7 – 9 PM

Dates: Thursdays as follows: February 19, April 16, May 21, June 18, 2009

Topic for February 19: Understanding the basic principles of multisensory, sequential, structured language education. This session will be devoted to understanding what the main components of effective remediation are for children with dyslexia. The purpose is to empower parents with the knowledge necessary to be effective advocates for their child's education. There will be ample opportunity for questions and parents will have the opportunity to 'try out' some of the activities for themselves.
